THE CODE OR THE TITLE OF THE PROJECT.

St. Louis School is an expression of the vast work “The Little House of the Divine Providence”, founded in Turin by St. Joseph Benedict Cottolengo in 1828.

It endeavors to be keen and to take care of all children, in particular those who are in difficulty, starting from their needs and the necessities of each one, and to enable exchange of experiences, of sharing, of welcoming and of helping one another:

- Following the charismatic intuition of St. Joseph Cottolengo, who taught us to promote the dignity of every person in his or her originality and diversity, and to live in a family spirit building relationship of reciprocity, of gratuity, of sharing, and fraternity. (cfr. Mission, n.3);
- Following what emerges from the National Instructions 2012, “The nursery school presents itself as a protective environment, capable of welcoming diversity and of promoting the potentials of all children, that between 3 to 6 years express a great richness of needs and emotions...”
- In line with what is emphasized in the Recommendations of the Council 2018, in regard to competences: “Every person has a right to education, formation and learning”.

In St. Louis School, one ensures so that children with any type of difficulty or disadvantage find a privileged welcoming, value for their own capacities and an occasion to grow, according to each one’s possibilities, in a family environment.

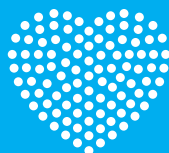

The daily experiences shared at school, among agemates and with the reference adults, is the privileged space to favour inclusion, in the awareness that children will be the ones to benefit.

It is not always that parents can choose a school they desire for their child.
